

THE NEW JACC

JUNEAU ARTS & CULTURE CENTER
Inspired by Nature, Driven to Create

New JACC Project Status

Our design is at 65% completion! We love it and hope you do too - take a peek at: <http://www.newjacc.org/about/building/>

Our groundbreaking timeline has moved 8 months out from the original goal - with the resources in place, we now plan to begin construction in March, 2019. In the meantime, continue to reserve space at the (old) JACC for your events.

Cheers! Cocktailsfor a Cause

It's Old-Fashioned Week! Support the New JACC at the following establishments: Alaskan, Bubble Room, Coppa, Hangar, McGivney's Downtown, Narrows, Rendezvous, Rockwell, Triangle, TK Maguires, SALT. Enjoy a New JACC Hammer Cocktail!

Message from the project coordinator

We are fortunate to live in such a vibrant arts community. As audiences, artists, educators and playful people, don't you wish we had an updated, efficient, beautiful venue for all of our events - from weddings to concerts? We can....and we will! The design has been developed, the team is in place, the leadership of the effort is strong and energized (and mostly volunteer-based!). Now we are working to smooth out a very few logistical wrinkles, gather the resources needed to launch and.....well, launch! One of our mantras: tear it down! ~~~~~Best, Katharine Heumann

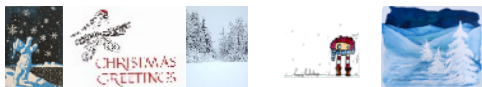

New JACC- a growing movement!

After five years of assessing the needs of the Southeast Alaska arts and culture community and outlining the specs needed for a state-of-the-art facility, community leaders assembled to form the Partnership Board, which has undertaken the task of raising $26M to support construction of the New Juneau Arts and Culture Center (New JACC).

Much has happened in the last two years! We have three part-time staff and several consultants. We have a design! Thank you NorthWind and Hacker Architects. We have raised 17% of the $26M needed for the New JACC.

Fundraising has been robust, continuous and enthusiastically embraced by over 25 talented volunteers. This team has researched prospects, undertaken nearly 100 solicitations with more underway. If you or your business are ready to get on board, contact Betsy Brenneman at betsy@jahc.org

Holiday Cards to Support the New JACC : Five local artists donated designs for holiday cards to support the JACC! Gordon Harrison came up with the concept, then Jim Heumann, Wayne Owen, Patti Hutchens Jouppi and Glorimar Ramirez all created designs. The cards will be printed by Alaska Litho and will be available in the Lobby Shop at the JACC. Call 586-2787 to preorder!

Who's on board?

Our supporters have grown by leaps and bounds recently. More than 400 have signed a statement of support:

www.newjacc.org/2017/07/15/support-the-new-jacc/

To join your friends and neighbors in this statement of support send your name, address, email address and phone to katharine@jahc.org

We support the New JACC because it will create much needed quality affordable venues for Juneau's vibrant arts community, be a primarily privately-funded economic catalyst for our city and provide a valued year-round multi-use facility for Juneau and Alaska – a legacy for all our children and grandchildren.

Stay Connected!

Stay connected by visiting our website - www.newjacc.org and by signing up for updates with katharine@jahc.org

BE A NEW JACC

GROUNDBREAKER

Let's get shovels in the ground next summer!
 With your pledge $10,000 or more ($1,000 now, balance over the next 3 years), GROUNDBREAKERS receive:

- First pick of tickets to Wearable Art at an exclusive party on November 17
- Permanent recognition in the building
- The gift of a limited numbered artist print being commissioned for the building

Take Action! Be Groundbreaker!
newjacc.org • 907 586-2787

Architect Spotlight: Sean Boily, AIA - Principal Architect, NorthWind Architects

The NorthWind Architects design team was awarded the New JACC design contract in April 2016. Principal in Charge and Architect of Record, Sean Boily has been intimately involved with all aspects of the design from day one, orchestrating the broad team of theater specialists, consultant engineers and NorthWind's design partner, HACKER Architects out of Portland, Oregon. The sole purpose of this team is to work with the New JACC Owner's team and the public to render the project program and vision into the beautiful and functional design you can see at www.newjacc.org.

Sean is a life-long Alaskan. Raised in Homer, he received his Bachelors of Architecture at University of Oregon, returned to Alaska to practice architecture in the early 1990's and opened NorthWind in 2005. Sean has developed a broad resume of project experience in all corners of Alaska. He prizes excellent design that positively affects how we live, where we live, and architecture that successfully responds to both our evolving social landscape and rigorous regional climates.

Deeply committed to enhancing the quality of arts and educational spaces in Juneau, Sean is personally active in supporting arts and culture in the community, having served on the Board of the Juneau Arts and Humanities Council, assisted in the development of the JAHC annual Wearable Art fundraising event for more than a decade and led the development of the Canvas Community Art Center. He has served as architect for several Juneau School District projects including the renovation of Gastineau and Glacier Valley Elementary Schools and more recently led the NorthWind/HACKER team that designed the Mendenhall Valley Library. Presently he is a Board Director representing Southeast Alaska for the Alaska Design Forum, and serves on the board of the Juneau Downtown Business Association.

Wearable Art Extravaganza "Molten" Tickets on sale 11/17: New JACC Groundbreakers are invited to a special ticket pre-sale event on Friday, 11/17 at 5:30 pm at the JACC. Live Music, refreshments, and first dibs on the seat of your choice! Become a Groundbreaker now!